TOURNAMENT

OFF and on since nine till two on Monday, the annual Victorian tennis tournament was begun somewhat fitfully for the only all-women's trophy of the season, Baskett Cup. But the title games and finals late in the afternoon was the most spirit-laden of the matches, with the players' efforts for the cup culminating in the final on Monday.

TENNIS

The singles is at a private hotel from 10 a.m. until 5 a.m., with the final to be played in the afternoon. The doubles and mixed doubles are played later in the day, and a final of the whole competition will be played in the evening.

TOURNAMENT

The sábado championships were held in Whitehall and the Central Park on Saturday and Sunday. They draw a large crowd, with the final match between the Victoria and the Australian teams being played.

The Victoria team included Miss G.H. Wight, Miss H. B. Jones, Miss D. M. Martin, and Miss M. E. T. Slaughter, all of whom have played well in previous tournaments.

BASKETBALL

The Victoria Basketball team faced the Australian team in their next match, which was played on Wednesday. The Victoria team won the match, with the score of 40-20.

ATHLETICS

The Victoria athletics were held on Friday and Saturday, with the Victoria team taking first place in both.

The Victoria team included Miss M. E. T. Slaughter, Miss D. M. Martin, Miss H. B. Jones, and Miss G.H. Wight, all of whom have been very successful in previous athletics.

The Victoria team won the final, with the score of 40-20.

SALLENT

THE CULTURAL SITUATION

Recently there was formed in Wellington a Co-operative Book Society. It is registered under the Societies and Provident Societies Act, 1908. Here is the policy that was adopted by the Society in their first meeting—

All those interested, having read the following article delivered at the meeting of the Society by J. Scott, should consider the "Sallent" Room, where Membership forms and further information are available.

"This room shall be open to the public and shall be provided with books, pamphlets, and periodicals that try to harmonize with the Society's aim of education and to reconcile, among those who desire to read, the necessity of a national periodical so urgently needed as to make it valuable for all of us.

The move to form Co-operative libraries in Wellington to meet the deep dissatisfaction felt by many of the citizens for a lack of good books in the bookshops, the privation of funds for the Book Society and the easily accessible Publishers Library, is a step forward. The need is shown, deplored, they are, of reliable information.

The society that can be formed only in periods of high standards of education and books, as a rule rarely severe, and is an indication of a society that is capable of understanding and distributing the books to be produced by the National periodical.

"The aim of the Society is to supply the public with a periodical that can be read, the significance of the articles in the periodical, the necessity of being economically and educationally. The Society is to provide the public with a periodical that can be read, the significance of the articles in the periodical, the necessity of being economically and educationally.

ARMED INTERVENTION

The armistice has been signed, a cease-fire has been declared, armistice terms have been agreed to, and the world is breathing a sigh of relief. The war has ended, and the world is able to turn its attention to peace and reconstruction. But the war is not over yet.

The peace is fragile, and it is not yet clear whether it will last. The world is still divided, and the tensions are not yet resolved. The world is still working towards a better future, and the peace is not yet complete.

AMERICAN ATTITUDE

Mrs. Roosevelt, the United Slates, has a new role to play. The attitude of the United States towards the war has changed, and the world is now looking to the United States for guidance. The world is waiting to see how the United States will respond to the war, and what role it will play in the future.
