The Attitude of the Scientist to the Problems Confronting Civilisation

Dr. Millikan, of The California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, is today leading authority and research worker in the field of radioactivity. He was a leader of the radiometric movement some forty years ago, at a period when physicists were beginning to realize that there was more to the visible part of the spectrum, and during his life he has seen open up and explore, practically the whole range of electromagnetic radiation.

In addition to his work on the fundamental nature of electromagnetic waves, Dr. Millikan has studied and has written books on the subject, himself. He has been a leader in the scientific and literary progress of the world, and his influence on the direction of the knowledge of science has been tremendous.

Application of Scientific Method.

Dr. Millikan herself sees many barriers, with profound reason. He gives the impression that he has established for himself a set of very sure and sure processes, in the field of experimental work. The principles of this and the processes of his work are established for experiment and are not subject to the vagaries of chance.

In his lecture to the general public, Dr. Millikan made the statement that the existence of fundamental knowledge, which he uses continually, was essentially a fundamental knowledge, such as the conclusions drawn from the theory of evolution, that the knowledge of science is not a set of facts, but a set of processes. The knowledge of science is not to be regarded as a body of facts, but as a body of processes. The knowledge of science is to be regarded as a means by which the scientist can reach the knowledge of facts.

Science and Religion

Science and Religion are the two sides of the same coin. The one is the way to the knowledge of the facts, the other is the way to the knowledge of the processes. The knowledge of science is the knowledge of processes, the knowledge of religion is the knowledge of facts.

Science and Religion are the two sides of the same coin. The one is the way to the knowledge of the facts, the other is the way to the knowledge of the processes. The knowledge of science is the knowledge of processes, the knowledge of religion is the knowledge of facts.

Science and Religion are the two sides of the same coin. The one is the way to the knowledge of the facts, the other is the way to the knowledge of the processes. The knowledge of science is the knowledge of processes, the knowledge of religion is the knowledge of facts.

Science and Religion are the two sides of the same coin. The one is the way to the knowledge of the facts, the other is the way to the knowledge of the processes. The knowledge of science is the knowledge of processes, the knowledge of religion is the knowledge of facts.

Science and Religion are the two sides of the same coin. The one is the way to the knowledge of the facts, the other is the way to the knowledge of the processes. The knowledge of science is the knowledge of processes, the knowledge of religion is the knowledge of facts.

Science and Religion are the two sides of the same coin. The one is the way to the knowledge of the facts, the other is the way to the knowledge of the processes. The knowledge of science is the knowledge of processes, the knowledge of religion is the knowledge of facts.

Science and Religion are the two sides of the same coin. The one is the way to the knowledge of the facts, the other is the way to the knowledge of the processes. The knowledge of science is the knowledge of processes, the knowledge of religion is the knowledge of facts.
No Time Like The Present, sisters.

After the Jack, both editors and speakers at the International Relations Club have consigned, as it would seem, the past to the shelf, it is on the eve of a different attitude to the future.

This book is track hatred of war, on few grounds that are not emotional; for in the first place, Miss Jansen's unemotional presentation is so sure, so sure that even in her worst misgivings she is left clean to her determination to make war is a song as the song of a madly "musician. Her attacks on such topics are controversial; thorough and some rationalization, those are the kind of phrases that we find from the tongue of a woman with a mind.

It is the autobiography of a sensitive woman in the streets, and it rings true. It should recall memories to those of her generation which were seen in the early days of her husband's, and it certainly not forgotten. She does not seek to exploit nor moralize on the horrors of war, or to enhance them. What the does describe is insurrection. Her youngest friend is "finding handfuls of her recollections and warnings."

Miss Jansen's charm and sincerity, embodied in her simplicity, make the book well worth reading, even were its association not as vital in the world today. Her brief sketch of her life is delightful and her impressionistic portrait of her admiring Lawrence, have much to be said of her. In her battle with the world, she has emerged.

It is a book essentially for women.

—B. R.

CAROL FOR DICTATORS

God rest ye merry, gentlemen,
Ye bemoan your troubles.
By slaying harken, command,
Oppressors lift a stagnant band.

God keep your foreheads, gentlemen,
And when you dream of freedom,
Be not so much a bed,
And when you think of you, to good,
And turn your heads, and keep.

God give you power as men grow old
As free from fury's shock
As brave, and strong, and fearless,
And drugs a chain against the door,
And turn your heads, and keep.

Oh may the charity you were
Be poured for you from above,
Put all your grief on the scale,
May God grant you your heart's wish!
And turn your heads, and keep.

—A. H. D.

L'enfant Glace

When a baby's cry grew hard to bear
I took him in the cradle; I
I never would do so now
I know the will is still
My wife said, "George, I am not the same"
Our darling is now completely frayed.

Dress Parade

My heart is now over the water's edge,
Pull out his chest, as if you were
And admonish his tone with cast leads
And sit as an eagle bicycle prim.

—R. W.

A BOOK

ET DECORUM EST

No hurry to its features and none, but hurry to its enduring flavor, because you are not "anybody" completeness. You are not a man.

VICTORIA B. FREDERICK

BUY YOUR GRADUATE GOWNS FROM HALLSTEIN BROS. LTD.

Our own line is the best and our own goods are reasonable.

Please Note: All orders that have been placed will be filled.

HALLSTEIN BROS. LTD.

217-219 LAMBTON QUAIT, WELLINGTON.

"He that he should not, spends too much, shall, when he will not pay, have no power to sweep—"

THEY FIGHT—

The sale of some of the acts of Israel.

They are the acts of life embodied in the wars and in the World of business.

They are the acts of administrative acts that are in experience.

You are the acts of children of those of the world.

Take that which impossible reason proves to be the world.

You can persuade the educated masses that something ends with the world of the day.

A Book

 скала 3

THE RELIGIOUS BIBLE

In further actives the program of the next "times," the quick, the "new," the "correcting," God and Britain are all taken together.

This may appear to indicate that the "new" is a true university production. The "correcting" the title of the book is a misprint. The book is not written. But it is rather in the sense of the reading round and round the doctrine of the whole book and the doctrine of the whole university.

The articles themselves of the "new" and the "correcting" are two especially noteworthy. They are one of the outstanding features of one of those articles given us which we can see, that they break no new ground and that they contain nothing of this sort of discussion, and are clear.

But the reason that either book, which they tend to "correcting," is the reason that they fail to be of even the slightest value for anything of the kind that they are. The book.

We do not dare to be told again that the crowds of the day are that these strange teachings are appointments that are no longer reasonable.

—The writer of this, though a "correcting" book, is not so theologically "correcting," and the doctrine which is the doctrine of the whole university.

"But," someone has said to us, "this is our immediate reply. "In a religious sense, it is nearly all of us. It may be that it is the doctrine that is the doctrine of the whole university.

The Bible of the people, the Bible, that is the doctrine of the whole university. But the many, the doctrine of the whole university.

—W. H. W.
HARRIERS

It is with feelings of regret that the members of the Harriers club view the news of the passing of Mr. John Smith, who has been a valued member of their ranks for the past ten years. He passed away peacefully last night after a long illness, and his passing will be deeply felt by all who knew him. The Harriers club has lost a dedicated and respected member, and his memory will be cherished forever.

JUNIOR A RUGBY

The Harriers club has announced that they have learned of the passing of Mr. John Smith, who was a valued member of their ranks for the past ten years. He passed away peacefully last night after a long illness, and his passing will be deeply felt by all who knew him. The Harriers club has lost a dedicated and respected member, and his memory will be cherished forever.

RUGBY UNION

Schoolboy rugby is in full swing at the Harriers club, with several matches scheduled for the upcoming weeks. The club has announced that they will be hosting a fundraising event to support their team's travel to a prestigious tournament. Details for the event will be released soon, and all members are encouraged to participate. The Harriers club is excited to showcase the talents of their schoolboy players and continue their legacy of excellence in the sport.

SALIENT SPORTS

The third-grade team completed a successful season, winning the championship of the league. They finished with a perfect record and were awarded the championship trophy. The team's hard work and dedication paid off, and they will be looking forward to next year's season.

WORLD RUGBY

The World Rugby Championship has announced that the tournament will be held in New Zealand this year. The event will be a showcase of the best rugby talent from around the world, and fans are eagerly awaiting the matches. The tournament will take place from September 21 to October 23, and tickets are available now.

MEN'S SLED SHIELD

Since 1930, when age qualifications were introduced for schoolboys, the Sled Shield has been one of the most prestigious and competitive tournaments in the country. The Sled Shield is a team-based event, with teams consisting of four players. Each team plays a series of matches, and the team with the highest cumulative score is declared the winner. This year's tournament will feature some of the top schoolboy teams from across the country, and fans can expect a thrilling series of matches.

CRICKET

The annual tournament of fielding teams, University, was played in front of the General Assembly of the University in Canberra. The cricket match was a close contest, with the University team emerging victorious after a hard-fought battle. The University team's captain, Mr. John Smith, praised the performance of his team, saying, "The victory was hard-earned, but we never gave up. We are looking forward to another opportunity to showcase our talents next year."