WHY NOT VICTORIA?

VICTORIA UNIVERSITY COLLEGE, supposed to be the intellectual centre of Wellington, is anything but intellectual. We have got more characters, potent beer-drinkers, and Capping day, a public meeting at the Strand, in which the students regarded the situation of Victoria, by a song which they sang and which they called "Victoria's Lament." The meeting was well attended, and the song was received with applause. The chorus ran as follows:

"What is Victoria? Victoria is a town that's small, and Victoria is a town that's small, Victoria is a town that's small, Victoria is a town that's small, Victoria is a town that's small."
WINTER TOURNAMENT 1955
Shield Goes South
VICTORIA could only take third place in the New Zealand Universities Winter Tournament held in Dunedin recently. After a poor showing in Wellington last year, VUC looked forward to its retention this year. However, when the tournament was in progress, it was found that many of the College's outstanding sportsmen were unable to make the trip. This cast a doubt in the minds of even the most optimistic of these doubts were removed when the tournament progressed. Victors, however, gave it their all and contributed to the very best of their ability.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL
The Victoria team failed to lose recently, "the student was not allowed to participate in the 20th and 21st. This gave them a chance to show how good they really were.

THE INDIVIDUAL CHAMPIONSHIPS began in earnest, and in the best tabi of the University. This year the tournament was entered by Victoria, but no other teams took part.

Elizabeth Lower and Allan Robinson placed 1st and 2nd in the individual singles, respectively. Lower was 1st overall, followed by Robinson with 2nd, and Lower with 3rd in the overall singles.

GOLF
Victoria failed to retain the Golf title which it held last year, but took second place to the home team, Victoria. The team consisted of two women and one man, and was captained by Pete Currie (197), Robert Hom (166) and Robert Hyman (126). The Victoria team played excellent golf, and was especially strong in the women's singles. Against Otago and Auckland, the team played well, with two wins and a loss. In the end, the team fell short of the title, but showed great promise for next year.

Air Traffic CLIPPER
The Victoria team played well and showed great promise for next year. They played against Otago, and won the men's singles, played well, with two wins and a loss. In the end, the team fell short of the title, but showed great promise for next year.

Student Affairs
"The Victoria student is not allowed to participate in the 20th and 21st. This gave them a chance to show how good they really were.

FINALS
In the final of the men's singles, Lower defeated Robinson, 2 sets to none. In the women's doubles, Lower and Hom defeated Robinson and Hom, 2 sets to none. In the men's doubles, Lower and Hom defeated Robinson and Hom, 2 sets to none. In the women's singles, Lower defeated Robinson, 2 sets to none.

BADMINTON

MEN'S HOKEY

There was much excitement about the prospects of the men’s hockey team at the University of New Zealand, with the team expected to be a strong contender. The team had a high ranking in the national league, and many players were expected to perform well in the upcoming season. The team’s target was to win at least 50% of their matches and secure a top 3 position in the league.

A Liberal Education

A more than a highly trained intellectual. It aims to provide a satisfactory philosophy of life," said the President of the University of New Zealand, Sir David Smith, in his address to the Senate at Lincoln College last month. "A liberal education is not just about acquiring knowledge; it is about developing a worldview that is based on reason, empathy, and critical thinking. It is about making sense of the world and the role we play in it, and using that understanding to make informed decisions about our future.

DRAMA

"The art of being happy" (by ANDRE MAITRE) was performed by the students of the University Drama Society. The play was set in the classroom, and it explored the theme of happiness and its elusive nature. The audience was left to ponder the meaning of happiness and whether it is something that can be achieved or if it is something that we must search for.

Night Schools

Pears that the University would be able to accommodate the advanced technical or vocational training curriculum of the Night School Committee's annual meeting that month.

Mr. David Smith pointed out that the Night School committee will be increasing, and that this fact alone, under existing international conditions, involved an increasing demand for technical services. Mr. Smith drew attention to the importance of night schools, as a means of providing further education to those who are unable to attend daytime classes.

The committee received reports from the representatives of both Rugby and Basketball, and it was decided that the Night School committee would continue to support their activities.

THANKS

I would like to express my thanks and appreciation to thesecharitable minded in my school, as Sporta Editor during the year. They all did such an excellent job.

Evangelical Anglican

The membership of the Evangelical Anglican Union is currently about sixty. The Union was established in 1954, and it has been growing steadily in recent years. The Union is based in Wellington, New Zealand, and it has chapters in several other cities.

The year has been one of marked progress in the Union, says its president, Mr. John Smith. "We have had a very successful year, with our membership growing by nearly 20%. We have also expanded our activities, with the establishment of new chapters in Auckland and Christchurch.

The Union's goal is to promote the spread of the Gospel and to help the poor and needy. The Union has been involved in several community service projects, including a food bank and a clothing drive.
