THE AMERICAN NEGRO POLITICAL STATUS AND EDUCATION

In view of the fact that the American Negro is the most important political and social group in the United States, it is of the utmost importance that we understand his status and education. M. S. Thompson, a recent colored visitor to this city, very much interested in the subject.

Although the American Negro is legally a citizen, his rights and privileges are far from equal to those of the white man. Despite many improvements in recent years, there are still many areas where the Negro is discriminated against. In education, for example, the Negro is often denied equal opportunities. In many states, the quality of education for Negro children is inferior to that for white children. This is not only unfair, but it is also a violation of the Constitution of the United States, which guarantees all citizens equal protection under the law.

The Negro's problems are not limited to education. He also faces discrimination in housing, employment, and even in public transportation. In many cities, it is illegal to discriminate against a person because of his race. However, in practice, this is not always the case. The Negro often faces barriers that the white man does not.

Despite these challenges, the Negro has made great progress in recent years. He has won many legal battles to secure his rights and has made significant advances in education and employment. However, there is still a long way to go before the Negro can fully enjoy his rights as a citizen. The struggle for equality is far from over.

PLUNKET BABES: WAH AND BLAH

There is no other Varsity event quite like the Plunket Medal Contest. For two months, leading students and capped players from Victoria College, Wellington, have been working hard to prepare for the Plunket Medal Contest. The contest is an important event in the life of every student, and the students are very much looking forward to it.

The contest is held every year to determine the best student in the college. The students are judged on their academic performance, as well as their participation in extracurricular activities. The competition is very intense, and the students are very much looking forward to it.

Negro Debate

"Negro" sat at the table where Messrs. B. J. and J. O. Alexander. Their remarks were made in a cordial way, but the "Negro" was a little reserved. "Negro" was sitting on his own, and he didn't seem to be very interested in the debate. Messrs. B. J. and J. O. Alexander were both members of the debating society, and they were both very good speakers. They had been rehearsing for the debate for several weeks, and they were both very excited about it.

"Negro" was a little hesitant at first, but he soon warmed up to the discussion. He made some very good points, and he challenged his opponents to think more deeply about the subject. The debate was very interesting, and it was clear that the students were very much engaged in the discussion.

The debate ended with a vote, and the students all voted for the "Negro" side. They were very much impressed with his arguments, and they thought he had made some very good points. The debate was a great success, and it was clear that the students were all very much impressed with the "Negro" and his arguments.
OBITUARY

MATHS AND PHYSICS DINNER
The Maths and Physics Society held their annual dinner at the Wellington Club on Thursday, 28th July. The dinner was attended by a large number of guests, including members of the profession, students, and friends of the Society.

The dinner was preceded by a talk on recent developments in mathematics and physics. The speaker was Dr. J. H. Smith, a well-known mathematician and physicist.

The dinner was followed by a social hour, during which the guests had the opportunity to meet and discuss various topics of interest.

The event was a great success, and the Society looks forward to continuing these annual dinners in the future.

BiologicalTalks

On Thursday evening, 21st July, the Wellington Naturalists' Club held a meeting to discuss recent developments in the field of biological science.

The meeting was opened by the President, Mr. J. H. Smith, who welcomed the members and guests. He then introduced the first speaker of the evening, Dr. J. H. Jones, who gave a comprehensive overview of the latest research in the field of evolution.

The second speaker of the evening was Mr. J. H. Brown, who discussed the role of genetics in the development of new species. His talk was highly informative and well-received by the audience.

The meeting concluded with a question-and-answer session, during which the guests had the opportunity to ask questions and discuss the topics covered in the talks.

The event was a great success, and the club looks forward to continuing these meetings in the future.
Both the men's and women's hockey competitions were suspended on Saturday afternoon because of a heavy snow storm. At Basketball, the Semi-train had a bye and the V.I.P. system in Western Pennsylvania represented the number one team in the全国, and the ordinary competition games in three grades being played. The V.I.P. versus the St. Francis Catholic School, at Hallowell was also on the docket.

At the Winterfresh Tournament at Dunedin the men's team did fairly well. A victory was gained at Massey's expense, and drawn games were scored with Canadian and Auckland. Overall the team scored 7 to 5, and we also lost to the Otago men. The team won the Otago section, with Auckland leading second placed. Three Victoria men, S. Bradshaw, W. Johnson and F. Newsome, who included in the N.Z. and the W.I.P. team, played well against the English. Otago also won the Women's section, with Auckland runners-up.

Women's Hockey

All those who took part in the Hockey Tournament at Dunedin are agreed, I think, that they enjoyed the first evening. The games were played well and the breaking of the ice brought about a feeling of exhilaration. The next evening everyone had found their feet and the zest of the play was enhanced. How do they do it? asks me again. Before the break, the play was much too fast and heavy. Everything seemed to be in motion, and the end of the first period saw the score tied at nil-nil.

The Saturday evening, boys and gents, was a huge success. The Victoria V.I.P. played the Auckland team. The Victoria team, with Massey foot were well supported. The Victoria team had a fine win and the score was 6-nil. The second game was between the Victoria and Auckland teams, but the score was equal.

Basketball

The “A” team drew a lot better for the last game in training, College defeating the “B” men to record a second victory. Both teams had a good chance of winning, and the game was played to the end. The Victoria team won 14-12.

The semi-final took place on Saturday night, the Victoria team winning 25-19 over the Auckland team. The semi-final was a close game, and the Victoria team won with a narrow margin. The Victoria team won the championship of the New Zealand tournament.

The Victoria College team won the Dominion Championship, defeating the Auckland team 25-19 in the final. The Victoria team played well and scored a comfortable win.
